DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 11, 13-20 and 22-26 are allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The examiner concurs with applicant's arguments filed 01 November 2005 such that the art of record fails to particularly teach or disclose the particular limitations pertaining to the usage of a "conflict resolver" whereby the conflict resolver automatically resolves conflicts between override instructions upon detecting the existence of a conflict. As further noted in applicant's arguments, the art of record (ex. Collings) discloses the particular usage of parental control systems which further provides the parent with the ability to temporarily override established limits. The prior examiner (Jason Chung) concluded that the ability to temporarily override limits can create conflicts between override instructions (Final rejection – Response to Arguments, mailed 22 April 2005). The Collings reference in combination with Casement provides a means to resolve these conflicts, namely by allowing the viewer to view a program even though it was restricted. Accordingly, the combined references would appear to operate such that a conflict resolver automatically resolves conflicts between override instructions when the viewing limits are established. However, the particular resolution between those conflicts, as taught by the combined references, occurs irrespective of or without detecting the existence of conflicts between override instructions as required by the claim language.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the
